MANY DARING DEEDS AMID THE SLAUGHTER

The Japanese Reported to be Weakening in Their Fire.

Russia is rejoicing Over the Turning of Tide in Her Favor

BOTH SIDES REINFORCED, IT IS REPORTED

London, Oct. 19.—The St.-Petersburg correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph says that word has been received at St. Petersburg that the Japanese fire at Shakhe river is weakening, owing to an insufficient supply of projectiles.

GENERAL'S CONFERENCE

Paris, Oct. 19.—A telegram from Mukden reports as follows under today's date: "The Japanese are concentrating on the center front near Hinksi. Captain Deachinski, while reconnoitering yesterday, captured two Japanese guns, and suffered no loss. Our left has made a slight advance."

SAKHAROFF REINFORCES.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 19.—Gen. Sakhoff reports as follows under today's date: "The Japanese are concentrating on the center front near Hinksi. Captain Deachinski, while reconnoitering yesterday, captured two Japanese guns, and suffered no loss. Our left has made a slight advance."

REPELLED THIR JAPS.

Hilayam, Six Miles East of Shakhe Oct. 19.—Fighting still continues along the whole front. The Japanese have made an unsuccessful attempt to recapture Lone Tree Hill. The Russian in front met several attacks, and repulsed them all.

Heavy rains continue.

Every one is terribly exhausted, but full of fight.

The battlefield of Lone Tree Hill presents the most awful spectacle that can be conceived. Russian and Japanese dead are mingled in heaps in inextricable confusion. The ground is strown with broken rifles that had been smashed in hand-to-hand fighting. Everything seems to have been utilized as weapons.

The Russian doctors are working heroically on the slopes of the hill, in the attempt to save those of the wounded who still survive, but the Japanese keep up a sniping fire and render the work of relief difficult and dangerous.

UNSUCCESSFUL ASSAULT.

Mukden, Oct. 19.—Lone Tree Hill, won by the Russians after a desperate struggle, was the object of a gallant but unsuccessful attempt at recapture by the Japanese. In spite of the awful slaughter with which they had been driven from the hill, the Japanese returned to the charge during the night of Oct. 17, recognizing that the hill was the key to the position on the southwest front. Nine regiments participated, creeping up through the night and delivering a furious assault at dawn. But the hill had been bought too dearly by the Russians to relinquish it, and the Japanese were driven back with terrible slaughter.

It is reported that Gen. Mistchenko's Cossacks, under command of Adj. Gavriloff, were engaged in a hot fight on Oct. 17, towards the southeast. A Cossack horse battery silenced the Japanese guns and drove back several infantry battalions, but were unable to capture the guns which the Japanese succeeded in carrying off.

JAPS BURN STORES.

London, Oct. 19.—The Exchange Telegraph's St. Petersburg correspondent says that it is stated that the Japanese are burning large quantities of stores at the Russian front, and have advanced to words Lushkiyan.

MANSLAUGHTER.

IS THE CHARGE REGISTERED AGAINST WALCOTT, THE NEGRO PUG?

Boston, Oct. 19.—A municipal court warrant was granted today for the arrest of Joe Walcott on a charge of manslaughter. Walcott was not able to be taken from the hospital today.

JAPS ADVANCE IS CHECKED.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 19.—In official circles it is believed that the Japanese have reached the limit of their advance, and their latest actions have assured the safety of Mukden. Under yesterday's date Gen. Kuroptkin telegraphs the letter to the Delphi Club. The Delphi Club is being entertained by Mrs. Musee Burnett this afternoon at her home on Broadway. It is a pleasant social occasion with a lecture by Rev. D. C. Wright of Grace Episcopal church on "Goethe."

The Free Trade Bird Built Its Nest on Every Chimney.

WHO WILL NOW GET THE BISHOPRIC?

A Special Meeting of Diocesan Council Soon.

Such Speculation Among Episcopalians as to Bishop Dudley's Successor.

THOSE WHO ARE MENTIONED

The designation of Rev. Dr. A. S. Lloyd, of New York, who was elected bishop of Kentucky, necessitated another meeting of the diocesan council and an election of bishop. When and where this will be to be determined as soon as the Kentucky deputies return from Boston. It is expected that the council will be called shortly to meet in Louisville. Yesterday's Louisville Times says:

"Since the refusal of the bishopric of Kentucky by the Rev. Dr. Arthur S. Lloyd, of New York, there has been much speculation and conjecture as to who would be the next choice of the diocesan council. The council will have to be called by the Rev. Dr. James G. Mumford for another special meeting.

"After the refusal of the Rev. John Gardner, of Baltimore, the two names most prominently mentioned were those of Dr. Lloyd and the Rev. Dr. William L. Manning, of New York. The latter was a very close second in the final vote, and it is natural to suppose now that he will come first in favor.

"Dr. Manning is comparatively a young man for so high an honor, but his rise in his sacred calling has been rapid and he is widely recognized as a man of great ability and force of character. He is a graduate of the University of the South at Sewanee in Tennessee, was rector of a church in Philadelphia, later was in charge of Christ church in Nashville, where his success was notable, and is now at the head of St. Agnes in New York."

"St. Agnes is the chief of the parishes of Trinity and since Dr. Manning has occupied this place he has come to be looked upon as the logical successor of the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix, rector of Trinity, and after Bishop Potter perhaps the most prominent churchman in this country. In view of this no little doubt has been expressed as to Dr. Manning's probable acceptance of the bishopric of Kentucky should he be chosen to that high office.

"The Rev. Dr. James K. Mason, rector of St. Andrew's in this city, has been prominently mentioned for the place ever since the death of Bishop Dudley and his great popularity in the council

DENIES ATROCITIES

King of Belgium Sends Representative to Roosevelt to Tell His Side of the Story.

Washington, Oct. 19.—At the request of the king of Belgium Colonel Kowalsky of San Francisco, called upon the president and represented the Belgian government's side of the story of the government of the Congo Free State denied recent allegations of atrocities there and quoted a number of men of international reputation who asserted that the Congo Free State is far more advanced in civilization than British East Africa and Uganda. Kowalsky will be called to the president's attention the fact that all the power in England over the fearful atrocities in Congo is gathered by missionaries whose applications for big concessions were turned down by Belgian authorities.

After his visit to the White House Kowalsky sent a telegram to King Leopold assuring him of the president's appreciation of his majesty's thoughtful consideration.

MANY MISHAPS.

ACCIDENTS, COLLISIONS AND DERAILMENTS ON RAILROADS.

Washington, Oct. 19.—A report issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission shows that the total number of accidents to persons on railroads in the United States during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904, was 55,150, comprising 8,787 killed and 51,343 injured. This shows a large increase. The total number of collisions and derailments was 11,291, involving $1,383,077 of damage to cars, engines and roadway. This is an increase of 648 collisions and derailments.

TWO KILLED

IN A WRECK ON THE OLEVE- LAND AND PITTSBURG.

Wellsville, Ohio, Oct. 19.—In a rear end collision on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh road this morning near Alliance, Fireman Messer and Brakeman Lally were killed. Twelve cars were wrecked.

PIRATES ATTACK.

Shanghai, Oct. 19.—The British steamers Pak Kang and Hoi Ho were attacked by pirates in the West river near Canton last night. A British gunboat has been dispatched to the scene.

especially among the lay members, argues that there is a strong chance of his being chosen."

BIG REHKOPF PLANT ALMOST A TOTAL LOSS

Blaze in Second Floor of Center Building Spread Rapidly.

Everything Ruined and 100 Men Out of Employment Indefinitely.

THE TOTAL INSURANCE CARRIED WAS $63,050

cried any insurance.

Some of them had tools worth $200 or over, while all of them had $50 worth or more. They had only a few days ago begun negotiations for insurance on their tools, but none of the men had taken out any insurance, and consequently lost all they had.

It is impossible to estimate the loss at present, with any degree of accuracy, but a member of the firm today stated that it would probably be $45,000 or possibly $50,000.

It is not known what will be done in regard to re-entering business, as Mr. E. Rehkopf, the head of the firm, has for some time been thinking of moving further south, and also of concentrating all his factories in Mechanicsburg, near his tannery. It is understood that he has been offered strong inducements to locate in Nashville and elsewhere, and is now in a better position than ever before to accept.

The fire will not affect the collar department, on Kentucky avenue between Third and Fourth, or the tan yard in Mechanicsburg, which are running as usual.

Chief Woods soon had very available facility at work, and the aerial truck was used for the first time, enabling the firemen to do good work from an elevated position.

The blaze spread rapidly to the harness and buggy departments, and water ruined what the fire did not destroy. While the lower floors were not invaded by the fire, the water soaked everything that could not be moved out, and added to the loss.

According to some first on the scene the fire seemed to have started in two or three places. It was reported that the fire doors between the Second street building and the John G. Rehkopf Buggy house were found broken open, but it was learned that this was done by the firemen after they began fighting the flames.

Officers Cross and Terrell saw two or three men coming out of the alley in the rear of Jones Hardware store, which leads to the rear of Rehkopf's, about fifteen minutes or half an hour before the fire was discovered, but nothing about the approaching fire, and bring engaged watching another vase they did not stop the men.

It was thought for a while that the loss might not exceed $25,000, but the estimate will likely fall far short, it is said today.

KENTUCKY NEWS TOLD IN PARAGRAPHS REV. MALLOY RULED OUT OF ORDER

AN ANCIENT SUIT.

Dwellingville, Ky., Oct. 19.—At the recent term of circuit court here Attorney Renben Gindell entered a motion to file away the noted old chancery suit of Spencer Boyd's heirs vs. Spencer Boyd's devisees, which suit was filed December 2, 1862, forty-two years ago. The suit was brought to close up the estate of Spencer Boyd, which amounted to a value of over $100,000. The case was tried here six times and appealed to the Kentucky court of appeals six times. Each time the judgment was reversed. Some of the most noted attorneys in the state were connected with the cause, among others H. L. Stone, city attorney of Louisville; William Lindsay, formerly United States senator; William H. Holt, formerly of the Kentucky court of appeals, and judge of the Puerto Rican district court. A two bushel sack is filled with the papers connected with the famous old case. Mr. Gindell filed the suit forty-two years ago and entered a motion to file it away.

INJURED IN A RUNAWAY.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 19.—As Mr. Ed Thomas, a prominent citizen of Cadiz, was driving into town to attend the carnival, his horse became frightened and ran away, throwing him from the buggy and severely injuring him. He was taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. John Quack, in this city.

ALAS, POOR BOVINE!

Bowling Green, Ky., Oct. 19.—The city council passed a stock law prohibiting the running at large of stock upon the streets of the city. This ordinance has been repeatedly before councils for the past fifteen years, but until the present the advocates have been unable to pass it.

MARRIED IN INDIANA.

Bowling Green, Ky., Oct. 19.—Miss Maude Beckham, of this city, was united in marriage to E. E. Kelsey, of Oaklawn City, Ind. Miss Beckham was accompanied to Evansville by her sister, Miss Emma, and the ceremony was performed at the St. George Hotel, in that city. Mr. Kelsey is a dry goods merchant of Oaklawn City, and met Miss Beckham while on a visit to his home town.

POPULAR MAN DEAD.

Henderson, Ky., Oct. 19.—James L. Dean, a popular young man of this city, died after an illness of some months. He was a member of the Elks.

ing any investigation, and now has the authority to come in and say that he has looked at the law, and that we property owners should pay for it. Why didn't he look at the law before? What is he paid for? Why did he sign those other storm water sewer ordinances requiring the city to pay for the sewers, if the law requires the property owners to do it? Why didn't he examine the law then, before he signed away the city's money?

"It certainly looks strange to me, and I am especially disgusted because it has stopped work that ought to be in progress right now. This thing ought to have been settled long ago. Another thing, the ordinances for this storm water sewer now about to be built were passed by both boards twice. These ordinances require the city to pay for it, and the city solicitor drafted the ordinances. He said nothing about the property owners having to pay for the storm water sewers, and the mayor, who was there and heard the ordinances read several times, likewise said nothing about it. Now the mayor stops work by springing this point after the city has paid out several thousand dollars for storm water sewers, including those in front of some of the mayor's property. Such tactics whether from ignorance and official negligence, make me tired."

A number of people have been to members of the board of works, it is reported, and asked them to go ahead and let the contract and ignore this belated move's nest of the mayor, that may delay work indefinitely. The board gives no intimation of what it will do.

TRYED TO HANG SON

WHEELING IND., MAN CHARGED BY NEIGHBORS WITH IN-HUMAN CRIME.

On complaint of neighbors William S. Leonardi, of Wheeling, a village north of Muncie, Ind., has been arrested and charged with assault and battery upon his son. It is charged that Leonardi placed a rope about the neck of his son Torrence, 18 years old, and was attempting to hang the boy from a rafter when the screams of the lad attracted neighbors, who rescued him. The accused man denies the charge.

Comment Over a Resolution Introduced at Synod.

The Delegates Disbursed It Before the Moderator Made His Ruling.

THE SEMINARY TERM

Shelbyville, Ky., Oct. 19. Much comment was created at yesterday's session of the Kentucky Synod of the Southern Presbyterian church, during the discussion of the formal acceptance of the invitation extended by the Northern Synod to attend the inauguration of President Blumett, of the Central University, at Danville, next Thursday. The acceptance was agreed on, but the Rev. Dr. Malloy offered a resolution, stating that if the invitation was accepted, it would be regarded by the general assembly of the church as an indication that the Southern branch wished a closer union with the Northern division. The resolution caused much excitement, but Dr. Malloy was ruled out of order by Dr. Lyons, the moderator.

The convention also discussed the report of the committee which was appointed to visit the Louisville Seminary, and which urged that the school term be lengthened from seven to eight months. It is expected that action on this matter will be taken some time during today's session.

An announcement of considerable interest was that Mrs. Sallie Grundy, who died recently at Springfield, had left a bequest of several thousand dollars to the conference for establishing an orphan's home.

After the greater part of the business of the session had been cleared up, a memorial service in honor of the late Rev. G. H. Strickland was held, being led by the Rev. Dr. P. H. Lattinger.

A memorial service for Major McLean, the former president of Sayre Institute, in Lexington, was also held.

FIRE AT HICKMAN

Considerable Damage There Last Evening.

Two Fine Residences Burned and Others Were Barely Saved.

Hickman, Ky., Oct. 19.—A destructive fire here last night caused a property loss of $10,000. The residences of Rev. Stanoli and W. A. Dodds were totally destroyed, with their contents.

The residence of Charles Baltzer was saved after a desperate fight.

Mrs. Stanoli and three children narrowly escaped being suffocated by smoke in the destruction of their home.

Had Baltzer's residence burned at least a half dozen other houses would have gone.

All the property is partly covered by insurance.

A BAD DISORDER

In the fall of 1892 I contracted that fearful disease, Blood Poison. It gained such a hold on me that I was forced to resign my position and seek relief at Hot Springs. After spending all the means I had I went to Memphis. In less than three weeks I was in a hospital, and after nine weeks of suffering I was discharged as cured. In less than a month every bone in my body seemed to be affected and felt as if they would break at the least exertion. Again I was compelled to resign, and I returned to the hospital for a seven weeks stay. When I came out I was advised to try farming. When I first went on the farm I prevailed on the only firm who handled drugs to get me one dozen bottles of S. S. S. At that time both of my hands were broken out with blisters and I was covered with boils and sores. In the meantime my physician had given two dozen bottles of S. S. S. for me and I began its use, and after taking the thirteenth bottle not a sore or boil was visible. R. B. Powell, East 9th St., Little Rock, Ark.

Of all human diseases, Contagious Blood Poison is the most hideous and hateful. The victim is tortured with eating ulcers, sores and abscesses, unightly blisters, eruptions and other symptoms of the miserable disease. S. S. S. has been used successfully for nearly fifty years for Contagious Blood Poison. It contains no mercury, potash or other mineral. Our home treatment book gives all the symptoms of this disease. A LONG TRAIN

It Contained Over 57 Freight Cars.

Blockaded the Local Yards For Over an Hour.

The first blockade in the local Illinois Central yards this season occurred this morning in the shop yards when freight train No. 189, composed of fifty-seven cars, some empty and some loaded, pulled in from the south.

The train was one of the longest ever brought into Paducah in one section, and while the caboose stood at the old dispatching offices, the engine stood near Broadway, and the train had to be cut in several parts at the street crossings to enable wagons to pass. For more than an hour and a half was the main line, from the Broadway crossing to the south yards on the south end track, blocked and the switch engines in the shop yards were hemmed in and unable to move about their work.

The situation was relieved about 8 o'clock when the engine coupled onto the train and pulled it to the incline. The switch engines were then released, the train cut into pieces and side-tracked.

BOYS RETURNED TO BUILDING FOR CLOTHES AND PERISHED.

Shelbyville, Ill., Oct. 19.—Alfred and Charles Peterson, orphans but not relatives, were suffocated in fire which destroyed the interior of the Middleworth Orphans Home here this morning.

The boys were out of the building but returned to get their clothing and were found a few minutes later under the mattress, where they had crawled. All the other inmates escaped.

MASTER EMMET OEHLSCHLAEGER MEETS WITH AN ACCIDENT.

Master Emmet Oehlschlaeger, son of Mr. George Oehlschlaeger, of Sixth and Harrison streets, fell from the porch yesterday afternoon and broke the bone of the left arm just below the elbow. Dr. H. P. PREPARING FOR THE CLEANING UP Inspection of the Division Expected Soon.

President Fish Greatly Pleased With the Katterjohn Construction Company's Work.

VISITED THE COMPANY WORKS

Supt. A. H. Egan, of the Louisville division of the I. C. and Roundmaster F. L. Thompson were in the city last night, and at 6 o'clock this morning left on a freight train for Tennessee river bridge and other parts of the division, accompanied by Trainmaster Schenck.

The officials are looking after the division closely, getting everything cleaned up and in the best possible shape for the annual inspection of the head officials, which is expected to begin today or tomorrow.

President Fish and Vice President Harahan, who were on this division Saturday, returned to Chicago to attend the annual meeting of the road today.

No particular route has been published and it is not known when the party will reach Paducah.

Mr. F. W. Katterjohn returned last night from Chicago where he had been on business, and this morning went to Cedar Bluff to his stone quarries.

During the recent trip of President Fish and Vice President Harahan, the quarries and crushing works at Cedar Bluff were gone over and the officials were pleased with it. The Katterjohn company furnishes a great amount of stone for ballast, and will furnish some for the ballasting of the Cairo extension and for work on other parts of the division where improvements are being made.

Although Mr. Katterjohn has never met Mr. Fish, and he has been associated with the higher officials of the Illinois Central for several years, Mr. Fish has stated he would like to meet the head of the construction company. Mr. Katterjohn completed last year something like a $1,000,000 contract of concrete work over the entire southern lines for the Illinois Central and his work has been satisfactory in every particular.

Speaking of Senator Jo Blackburn, who will speak here shortly, the Argonaut tells this one:

Senator "Joe" Blackburn's politeness was disastrous to him upon one occasion. He was making a trip to the mountains in the eastern part of Kentucky, and made his stopping place at a farmhouse at a remote point from the city. On the day of his arrival he was rather late for dinner, and the lady of the house apologized for the coffee, which at that time was lukewarm. "Oh, I do not mind it in the least, madam," said Senator Blackburn; "I really prefer my coffee cold, you know." It was served cold during the remainder of his two weeks' stay.

The new fire escape at the High School building bids fair to be "a thing of beauty and a joy forever"—to the small boy, at any rate. The youngsters take a peculiar delight in it, and while it is not for a moment feared that any of them, in his youthful longing to test the utility of the fascinating contraption, will set fire to the house or give a false alarm of fire in order to get to slide down, it is nevertheless a good thing that the pleasure is to be denied to the youngsters except in case of necessity.

The other day the teachers and pupils were grouped in the yard looking at the huge affair, when a small boy excitedly rushed up and piped:

"Oh, professor, if I ain't tarried for two days in succession, may I slide down once?"

The professor wouldn't promise, but the little fellow's question discloses the possibilities of the fire escape as an inducer of prompt and regular attendance among the small boys.

The new police officers have received their helmets, which are fine and imposing looking, and will make warm headpieces for winter weather.

Tickets are being printed for the game and the members of the High School team expect a big patronage.

The girls in the schools will assist in selling tickets and in this way a large crowd will be secured to attend.

This will be the first game of the season and from every indication interest in this winter sport will be just as keen as during the past two years.

A SUCCESS

SCORES THROG THE PUBLIC LIBRARY NOW.

The Carnegie Library has become extremely popular and last night the building was packed with persons desiring to secure books.

President E. W. Bagby stated this morning that it was wonderful to see the number of little folks who come to the library for books, and they all take histories of some kind, he stated. The juvenile department has been patronized better than the fiction department for older people, but the other books are also taken out by the young.

There have been over 2,500 cards issued and applicants are coming daily to secure cards that they may later secure books.

THE BEST DOCTOR.

Rev. H. C. Horton, Sulphur Springs, Texas, writes, July 19th, 1899: "I have used in my family Ballard's Snow Liniment and Horsehair Syrup, and they have proved certainly satisfactory. The liniment is the best we have ever used for headache and pains. The cough syrup has been our doctor for the last eight years." 25c, 50c, $1.00.

THE TRUST STORY DENIED.

The democrats have been "hoist by their own petard." Every time they attempt to score a point against the republicans they get the last end of it.

Recently a department ruling was made at Washington involving the tobacco companies, and the "tobacco trust" did not like it. A telegram was then sent out from Washington and published broadcast in the democratic papers, claiming that the administration at Washington had ruled against the "tobacco trust" because the tobacco trust was for Parker and Davis, and had contributed to the democratic campaign fund. This admission that the largest alleged trust in the country was for Parker and Davis, who were already the alleged candidates of Wall street, was used by republican speakers and orators to counteract the hypocritical democratic utterances against the so-called trusts, and they have made it so far for the democrat that the national chairman had to be called on to deny the democrats' own story.

A report from Mayfield of the debate between Hon. J. C. Speight, republican nominee for congress in this district, and Congressman Ollie James, says that Mr. James read the following telegram he had sent to Mr. Taggart:

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 12, 1904—Hon. T. Taggart, chairman democratic national committee, New York.—It is charged by my republican opponent for congress on the faith of a newspaper publication that the American Tobacco company or tobacco trust has contributed money to the national democratic committee. Is this true or false? Answer quickly, care Seelbach's Hotel, Louisville, Ky.

MILLIE M. JAMES, M. C.

Notice Mr. James discreetly neglected to say that the newspaper publication was from the democratic press. And he also evasively puts it "contributed to the national democratic committee," instead of the democratic campaign fund. Contributions are not made to the com-tee, or at least are not intended for the committee, but to the campaign fund.

But Chairman Taggart replied as follows:

"New York, N. Y., Oct. 12, 1904—Hon. Millie M. James, Seelbach's Hotel, Louisville, Ky.—Your telegram received. The charge made by your republican opponent that the American Tobacco company or tobacco trust has contributed money to the democratic committee is absolutely false in every particular."

T. TAGGART, Chairman."

So whether the tobacco trust is for Parker and Davis, as claimed by the democrats, or has contributed to the democratic committee or not, the democrats have had to take water on their own allegation, which shows how true are the claims they have been and are still making in this campaign.

OPPORTUNITY OF THE POPULISTS.

The populists of Kentucky should remember the democrats in their prayers, and not forget them on election day. The democratic state machine has denied the populists the privilege of having their candidates on the ballot, and did it on a technicality solely because the populists, by having candidates of their own, were endangering the success of democratic candidates. The democratic machine in Kentucky has a way of accomplishing its ends, law or no law, but usually contrives to use a club on the other fellow, and escape the consequences under the forms of law.

The shabby treatment now accorded the populists, in preventing them from casting their votes for the men they have nominated for office, should prompt every populist in Kentucky to vote the republican ticket. This is the only way to break up a machine that constantly overrides justice and the will of the people.

Every vote cast for the republican ticket will be a vote to overthrow the gang that seeks to crush liberty and defeat the freedom of the ballot in Kentucky. The populists in the First district will not have an opportunity to vote for Dr. Lackey, their nominee for congress, because the democratic secretary of state refuses to place his name on the ballot, but they can vote for Hon. J. C. Speight, a fair, intelligent gentleman who would never resort to such methods to get an advantage over a political opponent.

It behoves them to rebuke the methods that deprive them of their rights.

What General Grant said about the Democrats being like a man on the rear end of a train never seeing a thing until he has passed it—seems to be exactly true. The gold standard descended on them for the first time at the St. Louis convention—several years after the Republicans had established it.

Tommy Taggart, after the democratic papers all over the country claimed that the tobacco trust had contributed to the democratic campaign fund, says that it did not. But Thomas also says that Judge Parker is going to carry Indiana and New York—and be elected!

It is a queer commentary on the ideals of the Democrats, but a great many of them seem to think that strength always leads to invasion of other people's rights.

Grandpa Davis should not be censured for making such a small campaign contribution. He has a record for dodging worthless investments.

Judge Parker has twice informed us that he believes in the gold standard. That evens matters up, as he voted twice against it.

Judge Parker refuses to take the stump. He will probably not be satisfied with anything short of the tall timber.

Judge Speight has forced the democrats to swallow one of their own campaign lies.

As usual the Democrats grabbed the hot end of the pension poker.

WARRANT NOT APPROVED.
The warrant issued by Commissioner Gardner, at the instance of creditors in the bankrupt case of H. O. Robertson, of Livingston county, has not been approved and will not be served. The warrant was forwarded to Louisville for approval by the higher court officials and they did not think the evidence sufficiently strong to hold Robertson who was simply charged with having made false affidavit in the disposition of his property previous to filing his petition in bankruptcy.

MA'INEE AND NIGHT

THE GRAND LODGE TO ELECT OFFICERS

NEWS OF THE RIVERS.

The New Grand Master Will be
R. M. C. Rhea.

The Grand Chapter Last Night Elected Officers. Developing a Hot Race.

NAMES OF THE OFFICERS

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 19.—The most important business to come before the grand lodge today will be the election of officers.

Owen D. Thomas, grand master, will retire. He will be succeeded by R. M. C. Rhea, of Morganfield, now deputy grand master.

James Gurnett, Jr., of Columbus, will be elected to the chair of deputy grand master. He has just finished serving a term of grand senior warden.

Samuel K. Veech, will be advanced from grand junior warden to grand senior warden. These officers are regularly advanced one degree at each election.

Much interest is being shown in the election of the junior warden who will be in direct line to succeed to the chair of grand master. Those who are prominently mentioned are: J. W.
Muir, of Hodgenville, H. P. Barrett, of Henderson, W. C. Black, of Barbourville, Virgil Smith, of Somerset, and Robert W. Bingham, of Louisville.

The Grand Chapter met last night and the following officers were re-elected:

Joseph H. Ervall, of Paris, grand high priest.

Albert A. Hazelbrigg, of Mt. Sterling, deputy grand high priest.

H. H. Holman, of Madisonville, grand king.

George A. Lewis, of Frankfort, grand scribs.

All the officers, with the exception of grand scribs, were elected by regular advancement. This race developed an exciting election between George A. Lewis and G. Allison Holland, of Eminence. Lewis finally won by a majority of two votes, of the 264 cast.

HELEN KELLER DAY

UNUSUAL HONORS PAID THE BRILLIANT ALABAMA WOMAN.

St. Louis, Oct. 19.—"Helen Keller Day," named in honor of Miss Helen Keller, of Tuscumbia, Ala., who, born deaf, dumb and blind, has acquired national fame through her educational success, and the only person in whose honor the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Company has designed a special day, was celebrated, at the World's Fair grounds yesterday with exercises participated in by prominent educators of the deaf, dumb and blind from all parts of the United States.

Two that were yesterday missed from the school, belonging to J. H. Roberts, of Fancy Farm, have not yet been recovered. They were taken from the home of Thomas Edmon, and were undoubtedly stolen.

Mr. Pat Lally, the well-known Tribune street gasser, last night reported the theft of a fine horse. It was taken from his stable, and no trace has been discovered of it. Some boys saw it last evening, and when they took another horse from the stable to go hunting. When they returned the horse that was there when they left had been removed, although the doors were fastened.

Chief of Police Collins has his men doing all possible to discover where the horses are going.

ALL SOLDIERS WOUNDED

Mexico City, Oct. 19.—Three desperadoes, Nestor Flores, Redrigio Saledo, and Pedro Herrera, after drinking heavily, were responsible for one of the bloodiest tragedies that has occurred in the federal district in fifteen years.

About 8 o'clock in the morning they went to the residence of Vicente Godínez, at Santa Julia, a northern suburb of this city. They called for liquor, and when issued from the house with a servant named Launio Elias, the bandits shot both men. Elias died instantly and Godínez was badly wounded.

When the news of the tragedy reached the police they dispatched twelve rurales in the direction of Morales' plantation, whether the murderers had fled and two to bridge lying between Santa Julia and a plantation.

The rurales upon reaching the bridge were surprised by the bandits, who killed one and wounded the other. The bandits escaped across the bridge.

They then passed through the Morales plantation, forcing the occupant to furnish them more liquor.

While trying to escape through a wide magnate plantation the main body of the rurales overtook them. Hiding behind magnates the men had a battle with the rurales, over 100 shots being exchanged. Flores was finally killed and Saledo captured, after receiving several bullet wounds and saber cuts. Herrera, though wounded, succeeded in escaping and a posse was sent after him in the western hills.

Leonardo Enriquez, a private citizen who accompanied the rurales, was shot
eight times, and is reported to be dying.
Nearly every soldier in the squadron
was wounded.

The dead and wounded were brought to Tucumaya, a town near this city.

Saledo, the captured bandit, is a desperate criminal, and is charged with three murders.

PRESBYTERIAN UNIVERSITY CANNOT BE MOVED FROM CLARKSVILLE.

Clarksville, Tenn., Oct. 19.—In the Chancery court here this morning
Judge Stoner granted a perpetual injunction in the case of the Southwestern Presbyterian University vs. the Synod of Tennessee et al. This suit was brought to prevent further efforts on the part of the Presbyterians of Georgia to remove the university from Clarksville to Atlanta, there to form a part of a great southern educational institution. Complainants prayed for an injunction to prevent further efforts along this line, which was granted as above. The case goes to the supreme court.

Catararrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable.
The usual symptoms are a full bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing a pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.
The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catararrh will disappear.

According to Dr. Harlanson, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aspiric Peptin, a little Nux, tincture of Senna and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Hypsopha Tablets.
Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. R. S. Workman, Chicago, Ill., writes:
"Catararrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the polluous discharge there from passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catararrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catararrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Hypsopha Tablets."

Leonardo Enriquez, a private citizen
who accompanied the rurales, was shot
eight times, and is reported to be dying.
Nearly every soldier in the squadron
was wounded.

The dead and wounded were brought
to Tucumaya, a town near this city.

Salado, the captured bandit, is a desperate criminal, and is charged with three murders.

NICE TIME

18 PROMISED THE UNION BLACK.
SMITH PRESIDENT.

Local union blacksmiths are preparing for the reception and entertainment of Mr. John Sloane, general president of the National Union of Blacksmiths, of Chicago, who is expected to come through Paducah tomorrow or Friday en route to California on business. Mr. Sloane will go to California via New Orleans and his route will carry him either through Paducah or Cairo and local union blacksmiths are expecting a telegram with information as to the route he will take.

If he comes through Paducah, a special meeting of the local union will be held, and he will be entertained with a smoker and spread. This is quite an event, as the officer does come, and the union men want to give him a complete reception.

CURES WINTER COUGH.

my wife's trouble to catch a severe cold,
and therefore to cough all winter long.
Last fall I got for her a bottle of Horhound Syrup. She used it and has been able to sleep soundly all night long.
Whenever the cough troubles her, two or three doses stops the cough, and she is able to sleep well." 25c, 50c, $1.00.

Hearts Courageous

BY... HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES

Copyright, 1902, by THE BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

A struggle showed in the baron's face. No one had ever gone unheeded from his door. He kept open table at the Winchester courts, fed the poorer settlers with his own produce and would have filled the ragged hat of a beggar with gunpowder. The passionate hatred he had—hatred against the enemies of his king. All were alike to him, high or low. The times, growing beyond him, had put forward patriots. But, all alike, he deemed them vipers that bit the hand that fed them.

As Henry approached the door, my lord was fidgeting in his chair. The hand was upon the latch when he could restrain himself no longer.

"Joy!" he thundered, "fetch a stirrup cup! You may be a rebel, sir, but, blast my whip and spurs, you shall drink before you go! I could wish you were not an enemy of the king."

"No, of the king," said Henry, and smiled. "Not of the king, but of the king's rule."

A gleam of ferociousness, of the unconquering principle of his life, shot from under the old man's brows. "I hold with no disloyalty."

"I hold," said Henry in a low voice, "with my friend Volonel Washington, 'Abst no treason,'" flamed the old man.

Henry's eyes add a sudden gleam of satiric humor. He stretched out the glass the negro had brought him and proffered it to his host.

"I must decline," he said, "to accept hospitality from you on earth who has might to say against the charmed of Volonel Washington."

The baron stood for a moment with his jaw dropped, then crooked. "God knows!" he said, his voice sinking like a child's. "God knows!"

But he got no further. "My dear Lord Fairfax," exclaim'd Henry, and drank the glass in a draft.

CHAPTER IX.

In the gray wreathed dawn Lord Dunmore, at the head of his Virginian troops, marched off with file and drum for Fort Pitt, and the buff and scarlet passed the King's Arms, where Anne peered from the window to see them off. In one of the left groups she distinguished Francis Byrd. Drawing the curtain close under her chin, she put out a hand and waved to him, smiling, and saluted her face with a flash of his sword and a wistful look as he rode by. Immediately behind the governor, near Jarrett, rode Fay, and a sense of recompense made her clinch her hands with the steel in her eyes.

When they had gone she crept back into the warm bed and lay smilingly thinking. She should see Armand soon again, and he should never know what she had done. So thinking, she drove past to sleep and did not wake till the sun was high.

She breakfasted with gay spirits, insisted on riding horseback and, followed by John the Baptist, galloped off a half hour in advance of her aunt's chariot along the way to Greenway Court.

She entered. No one was in the hall, and her feet fell noiselessly in the thick carpet pile on the floor.

She pushed open the door of the living room and then stopped, startled.

She saw a settle strewn with skins, a wave of curling brown hair pillow'd on it, and under this a glimpse of a pale face turned away. There was a shaded window opposite, and light came through it whitely. A hand and wrist hung over to the floor. There was something desolate in the silence, something appealing in the drop of that hand that brought a snort to Anne's eyes as she looked.

Suddenly she caught her breath and took quick steps forward into the room, gazing wonderingly at the figure on the couch—the strong hair, setting all the paleness of the face in a shadowy frame; the blue circles under the closed lids, the young mouth, the upward sweep of the rounded chin. She began to tremble exceedingly, her lips unsteadily, her great blue eyes misting, her whole face caught in a quaking terror. She had gone whiter than a moon flower.

"They were too late!" she whispered. "You fought, then? Ah, while I was so glad!"

She crunched down by the settle, her hand pressed tight against her heart, full of a joyful anguish she had never known. Something she had fought down hitherto rose in her throat and choked her at sight of this hurt, this helplessness.

At last, yielding all at once, with a little sob and a gesture of pride and longing and surrender, she bent slowly, like a swaying lily, and kissed him on the forehead.

He stirred and opened his eyes with wonder in them to see her face so near, "Mademoiselle!"

"You have been wounded?" she breathed,

He tried to rise and, failing, smiled at her. "It is a little thing. The doctor has told me that. And you care? Then it is nothing—less than nothing."

"You make light of it."

He lifted himself on one elbow and stretched out an uncertain hand toward her. "Mademoiselle," he said, "was I dreaming when you came or did or did?"

She lay still, like a swaying lily.

She was on her feet now, and her eyes turned their gaze away.

"No, no," she answered; "you were asleep."

"As I opened my eyes just now it seemed—as if you had kissed me on the forehead. Was that a dream, mademoiselle?"

"It was a dream," she said hurriedly, her voice wavering.

"You kissed me?" Joy was in his look.

"No."

"Ah, mademoiselle!" He fell back on the sofa.

With suddenly rosy cheeks she ran toward the door to meet the old baron entering from the hall.

There was at last a long November's day while Anne was at Winchester and when she and Armand, his wife located, rode together along the valley ways. The young Frenchman will remain a guest for the baron would hear no word of departure. He swore he should not leave him till the season opened again at Williamsburg.

The day before their return to Braden Hall the ladies spent at Greenway Court. On the mid-November afternoon faded Armand and Anne sat in the rustic house, both of twisted grapevines, set where the round sun on which the ledge was built fell steeply down. A book lay on her knee.

Far away against the long dashes of twilight light the sweep of rugged Blue Ridge stood listlessly. The river bottom was violet gray ranch of stain streaked grasses, hung with wreaths of trailing Virginia creeper, dabbled in the summer's blood, or as if the peaks ran down with red wine wasting.

Anne pointed where just below the river waivered like a sheet of spun silver, edged with soaked velvet.

"The Indians call it Shennandoah," she said, "daughter of the Stars."

He leaned forward and lifted the lit book, its binding of parchment, pale yellow, like antique ivory. "It is a tale of my own land," he said softly, "of Normandy, in the old days when the troubadours sang."

"I have not yet read it," she answered. "Tell me the story."

"It is of the son of a poor woolster. Telling of his life in the forest, he saw by chance the daughter of a king as she rode past with her cavalier. He brought her a cup of water, and she unshod on him. So fair she was that he loved her to desperation and could not rest nor sleep from thinking of her face. He traveled far and came by night beneath her window and sang songs to her, songs delicate and beautiful, in phrases that only his great love had taught him, and when he sung he touched the strings of her own heart. The lady listened, and her tears fell down from the window in the palace wall. She was a great lady and he the lowest of the land, and in the hopelessness of his passion he sang that he was a prince of a hostile country, wooring in attire of rage the starling to whose presence he might not rightly come. His hair was not like the songs of the gilded courtiers that rocked her father's gate. They were more noble and true, and his love clung upon them as if on stars of gold and drew her heart out to him over the air. One night she slipped out to his arms in the darkness. Then he knew on the yellow forest leaves and told her the truth and pleaded as excuse his great love. And he would have gone from her and left her to go back alone."

"What then?" demanded Anne.

"She took his hand and kissed him and went away with him to his hut in the forest."

Both were silent a moment.

The vivid thins in the sky were pulsing. The river's silver dabbled to mauve. The gloom, all luminous, seemed an impotent sular stealing amorous upon the drowsy day. The day stirred, glowed again and spread out a tawny flood as a woman drops her hair under some golden lamp to please a lover's whim.

"Think you," he asked then very low "that such a love might be?"

Danger!

Headache, Trembling Hands, Twitchings, Irritability, Are Signals.

Not every headache is a sign of nervous breakdown.

But, we suffer often from headache that seems to occur at intervals, nervous trouble in very evident.

Again, if you can't hold a pen to paper without trembling or twitching, there's a nerve loose somewhere.

Or, if you seem irritable and cross without cause.

All these are signs and symptoms.

Some of these signs are Sleeplessness, Dizziness, Excitability, Loss of Memory, Profuse, Headache, Melancholy, Neuralgia, Muscular Twitchings.

Do not neglect them. Begin to take Dr. Miles' Nervine. It will cure them.

For five years I have suffered terribly from nervous prostration. I tried one physician after another, but received no relief. I became gradually worse until I was afraid to be left alone, and despaired of ever being cured. Three months ago I was compelled to try Dr. Miles' Nervine. After taking the first bottle I felt so much better that I was greatly encouraged to take the second. I had taken three bottles and now feel much better health than I have been for years.

She Is Assigned to the Seventh and Eighth Grades at the High School.

MISS MOORE IS TRANSFERRED

Miss Carrie Blythe of Nashville, who has been attending Vanderbilt University and also teaching in a Nashville school, is in the city and will be given a position as teacher in the 7th and 8th grades in the high school building to succeed Miss Moore, of Lexington, who will be transferred to the Langstaff school in Mechanicsburg.

Miss Moore is a regular teacher, and the extra grade in Mechanicsburg has been taught by Miss Audrey Taylor substitute. The need of a substitute has been felt and Miss Taylor being regularly installed in the Mechanicsburg school, raised a short.

A GALAXY OF LATEST CREATIONS IN FURNITURE

For weeks we have been putting on the floors of OUR TWO STORES new and up-to-date pieces of Furniture; the markets of the world have been drawn on for our fall stock and now we have a showing of which we are very proud, and invite your careful inspection. Visitors are most welcome, and we feel that we can well repay you for a visit to our Two Mammoth Stores. *

We Have Displayed in Our Stores the LARGEST Assortment of Furniture Ever Shown in Paducah is often sought, but not always found. The makers of some furniture overlook the fact that it is primarily for use and not for show.

We are showing a line of rockers of a different kind. They are designed to afford the greatest comfort. They fit the curves of the human form.

They have beauty and strength, too. Made of fine mahogany, oak, etc., and finely finished, they are perfect samples of modern high grade furniture.

The best mattress for health and comfort is a felt mattress. Everybody knows it, and that's why so many people pay exorbitant prices. But if they only knew that this sanitary felt mattress is positively unexcelled in any point they would have no other. It's made from guaranteed orded sanitary felt, will not absorb moisture—always remains soft and will make over like a hair mattress—weighing 45 pounds. Price, $9
